1. INTRODUCTION

Effective health and safety management, procedures and control measures have assisted in reducing the risks encountered by Service staff, but it is impossible to eliminate all risks, so death and serious injuries do occur.

Life critical conditions or death can affect employees due to medical conditions that are not safety event related. Although these situations are not required to be reported to the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) under the Reporting of Injuries and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations (RIDDOR), they are included in this policy.

Core Code of Ethics

HFRS has adopted the Core Code of Ethics for Fire and Rescue Services. The Service is committed to the ethical principles of the Code and strives to apply them in all we do, therefore, those principles are reflected in this Policy.

National Guidance

Any National Guidance which has been adopted by HFRS, will be reflected in this Policy.

2. EQUALITY AND INCLUSION

HFRS has a legal responsibility under the Equality Act 2010, and a commitment, to ensure it does not discriminate either directly or indirectly in any of its functions and services nor in its treatment of staff, in relation to race, sex, disability, sexual orientation, age, pregnancy and maternity, religion and belief, gender reassignment or marriage and civil partnership. It also has a duty to make reasonable adjustments for disabled applicants, employees, and service users.

3. AIM AND OBJECTIVES

The aim of this policy is to consider and set out the process by which employees and their families are supported following a life critical condition or death.

To specify the type of response appropriate by detailing procedures and considerations so this can be given in a timely and sensitive manner.

5. LIFE CRITICAL CONDITION OR DEATH (IN SERVICE)

- There are a number of objectives that the Service needs to consider when life critical conditions or death are identified.

They include:

- Providing welfare and support arrangements to families, employees, and other parties.
- Notifying external agencies of life critical condition/death within the specified timescales when required.
- Provide information to the media in a timely and sensitive manner.
- Make arrangements to continue to provide a normal service to the communities of HFRS.
- Investigate the cause of life critical condition/death, if necessary, to enable preventative measures to be introduced to prevent reoccurrences.
- Initiate actions to mitigate the risk of the Service facing civil or criminal proceedings arising from actions after the death or life-threatening injury.
- Strengthening the Service's capability to respond to a death or life critical condition.
- Provide the relevant information to interested parties such as the Police and Coroner.

Media

Media interest following a life critical condition or death may be intense and sustained for several months/years. Appropriate use of the media will help to avoid rumour and misinformation that may cause distress to those affected and their families.

Any approach for interviews should in the first instance be directed to the Corporate Assurance Section. If they are not available, any sensitive media should be forwarded to the duty Director. In any event the duty Director is to be informed.

Notification of life critical condition or death

All notifications of life critical condition or death are to be forwarded to Service Control at the earliest opportunity available.

Any department receiving notification from an external organisation/source of an on-duty employee's life critical condition or death, MUST immediately forward this information to Service Control.

Welfare

It is possible that the handling of the immediate welfare needs of employee's families can be the most critical part of any response to a life critical condition or death.

Consideration must be given to the timings and method of notifying families of the deceased or injured person, as this has a direct impact on the immediate and long-term welfare of the family.

The duty Director, with the line manager of the individual and in conjunction with the Police, is to ensure the nominated emergency contact is notified as soon as reasonably possible.

The duty Director will appoint a suitably trained Family Liaison Officer (FLO) who will then in turn appoint a Service Liaison Officer (SLO). Staff appointed to these roles should preferably be a middle manager or above, but not from the affected District / Section. The appointed individual tasked to notify the emergency contact of the life critical condition or death must NOT be appointed as a FLO. It is vital that in today's culture of social media, the informing of the emergency contact must be completed as soon as practicably possible.

NO correspondence is to be sent to the affected individual's home address or workplace.

Consideration must be given to Control personnel if they received or processed any sensitive information.

Welfare needs may include the following:

- Emotional support.
- Financial support, including liaising with the relevant pension fund i.e., West Yorkshire Pension Fund / East Riding Pension Fund and the Fire Fighters Charity etc.
- Provision of compassionate leave.
- Practical support in the form of regular liaison and transportation to hospital etc.
- Consider if the individual was a Sports and Welfare Association member.

Service Provision

The death or life critical condition of a colleague will have a direct impact on Service morale. If necessary, an affected station should be taken 'off the run'. In the event of the deceased / injured not being at their home station, then consideration should be given to taking affected personnel 'off the run'. In the event of the employee not being station based, consider removing colleagues from work activities at the individual's place of work.

6. FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

The FLO is to liaise with the nominated emergency contact, and upon request the Service will assist in the provision of funeral arrangements via the SLO.

The Corporate Assurance Section will be responsible for promulgating details of any funeral arrangements.

Upon being notified of the death of a serving or ex-serving member of the Service, the Chief Fire Officer and Chief Executive, or his designated nominee, should consider offering to the next of kin, the Service's involvement in the funeral as follows:

Note: At all times consideration should be given to uniformity of appearance.

Flags

7. Post-Incident Considerations, if applicable:

- Following the closure of the incident, the following actions should be considered:
- A debrief of how this policy was implemented, including representation from representative bodies and multi agencies if necessary.
- A report identifying all aspects of how this policy was implemented should be produced for the Strategic Leadership Team (SLT).
- Advice should be sought from the duty Director before beginning any debrief process to determine if the findings could affect any investigation or civil claim being made against the Service.
- Care should be taken to ensure that anniversaries of the incident and memorial dates are appropriately marked.
